

Allegion Quote Policy – United States

Effective: January 1, 2018

Introduction

Allegion has a rich history for which our team members and Authorized Sellers can be proud. Allegion is known for its innovative security products and solutions, with brands that have established leadership positions in their markets and strong reputations for quality. Allegion team members work each and every day to generate demand and create value for our Authorized Sellers.

It is Allegion's responsibility and obligation to protect and grow that value. In furtherance of that obligation, Allegion, through its Schlage Lock Company, LLC wholly owned subsidiary ("Allegion"), has elected to implement a Quote Policy to govern the use of quotes issued by Allegion. This policy will help to ensure that quotes are utilized for the purposes intended and to otherwise position the Allegion products for success in a competitive marketplace for Allegion's and our Authorized Seller's benefit.

This Quote Policy shall apply to any and all existing quotes issued by Allegion.

Guidelines

- For pricing outside of the Authorized Seller's pricing program established by Allegion, a quote must be obtained from an Allegion Regional Sales Office (RSO) that manages the respective market where the opportunity exists.
- If a quote is issued by Allegion, the quote shall only be used for the purpose and geographical location as stated in the quote.
- If a quote is issued by Allegion, the Authorized Seller may ship product in its own inventory for the quoted opportunity; however, an order must be immediately issued to restock the product shipped for the quoted opportunity prior to the expiration of the quote. Allegion will verify compliance by validating sales activity against quotes.
- All Quotes are subject to the Allegion Online Sales Application and Agreement.
